

CATHARINE WELDING.

APRIL 6, 1860.—Ordered to be printed.

Mr. STOKES, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, made the following

REPORT.

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of Catharine Welding, report:

That they have examined the papers presented to them in this case, from which it appears that the only proof in the matter is the said petition of Catharine Welding, and her affidavit. She only knows that her husband was in the revolutionary war from having heard him say so. There is no roll on file of any such regiment as she alleges that her husband served in. The Commissioner of Pensions refused her application for bounty land for the reason that she failed to identify as the wife of her alleged husband, and also to prove that he was in the revolutionary war. And for the same reason your committee are of the opinion that the prayer of the petitioner ought not to be granted, and ask to be discharged from its further consideration.

CATHARINE WELTING

Attest, 1870-71. (Signed as to be printed.)

Mr. FENNER, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, made the following

REPORT.

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of Catharine Welting, report:

That they have examined the papers presented to them in this case, from which it appears that the only ground in the matter is the claim of Catharine Welting, and her affidavit. The only known person of Catharine Welting was in the Revolutionary war, and having been killed, that her husband was in the Revolutionary war, and having been killed, may be. There is no bill of any such person as she alleges that her husband served in. The Commission of Pensions refused her application for bounty land for the reason that she failed to identify on the side of her alleged husband, and also prove that he was in the Revolutionary war. And for the same reason your committee are of the opinion that the prayer of the petition ought not to be granted, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration.
